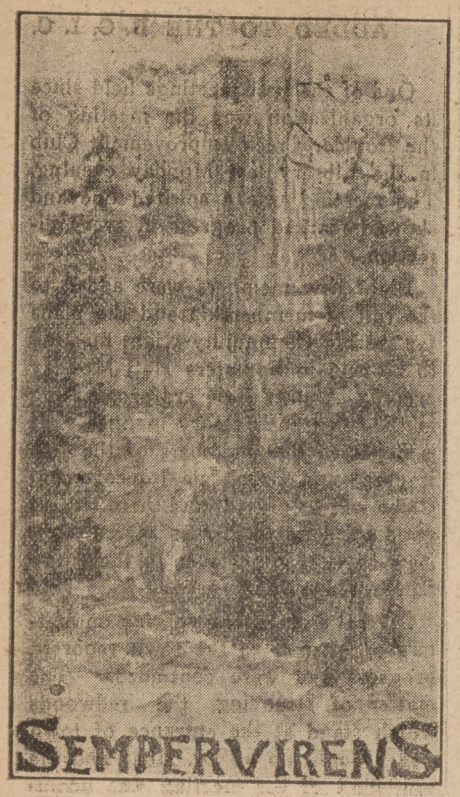
COMMUNITY

Vol. I. BOULDER CREEK, CALIFORNIA, AUGUST 27, 1921. No. 20



Rooted in the practical life of the community which it aims to aid to an upward growth in strength, symmetry and beauty. Growing out of the quality of youth of all ages about which it hopes to organize the community as its true source, inspiration and hope.

You are of the Community

By so much as you give to it out of your life something Semper virent.

HIGH SCHOOL FACULTY.

High School opens Monday with a Faculty seven strong; the four regular members, Geo. L. Gordon, Principal, Ruey Dexter, Elizabeth Nueman, Frances Colburn, and three new part time teachers, Lavina B. Porter, Mattie E. Gordon, and A. H. Townsend. Mrs. Porter will have charge of graphic arts, Mrs. Gordon the music and Mr. Townsend, printing.

NEW YEAR'S DAY

From the above caption the reader might conclude that we had turned the pages of the calendar forward four months to January first, the universally accepted New Year's Day; the day which differs from other days only because in the minds of people it has become an invisible milestone, counted only by it's register on the calendar; a time when people as a unit take a look backward for a resume of the year just ended and a look forward to forecast the year just beginning; making resolutions tending toward greater accomplishments in life's activities— swearing out the bad, swearing in the good.

That is the generally accepted New Year's Day and most likely always will be. But at this time we have in mind another New Year's Day, a movable day like Easter—August 29th—the first day of the new school year, a day whose importance to the community is far greater than that of the other New Year's Day because it marks the beginning of another year of training for the rising generation in the business of right living.

It is but natural that the faculty of the schools and the Boards of Trustees, whose aims are always to build the schools along the lines of high character and usefulness, to look forward to a year of growth and development along educational lines moulded by adherance to all the requirements necessary to the highest possible mental attainment.

If the last school year holds any regret [and it seems that life in all its occupations must hold some regret] it may be summed up in limitations which prevented the attainment of the fullest measure of ideas and ideals on which the school work is based, and is not due to any lack of zeal on the part of those having the work in charge.

As a whole the last school year was a success, well deserving of the commendation accorded it, and if the standard set was not reached we pledge redoubled effort in every direction calculated to make that attainment possible.

Some day there will be a removal of limitations and in that day we shall reach forward to a standard of school excellence that will make us look back upon the past in amaze and astonishment at our willingness to let anything short of perfection stand in the way of performing the duty we owe to the rising generation, the duty of giving all children a proper start in life which schools alone can give.

All in all, we have a feeling of pride for the accomplishments of the last year some of which may be enumerated as follows:-

1. The uniting of schools under one supervising head.
2. Successful launching of a community newspaper.
3. Consolidation with Bear Creek school district.
4. Additions to school grounds.
5. Physical examination of children.
6. Wood work, art and printing added to the High School departments.
7. Manual training and home economics introduced into the Grammar School.
8. Renewed activity in athletics.
9. Student's book store established.
10. Beginning of open air theatre.
11. A year's training in co-operative visioning, planning and timely use of advantages and opportunities available for community development.

As we look to the future, we feel the added responsibilities that have come with the successes already attained. Our hopes and purposes are large. Our desires to make them actualities are fervent. It matters not what has been accomplished in the past, it is our duty to always strive for the attainment of a higher standard of school values and we shall do it.

Some of the things we hope will materialize during the New School Year may be outlined as follows:-

Individual student classification.

System of supervised study.

Musical activities in the schools.

Auxilliary agencies, P. T. A., Glee Club, etc.

Reorganization of manual training.

School buildings for community service.

Closer unity of school, home and neighborhood communities.

Possible erection of a new School Building on the School campus so constructed as to well care for the needs of the Grammar School and Community Center needs.

These and many other thoughts calculated to more fully develop school values for community service come to us; all of which may seem a little hazy owing to the long or short distance between now and the time in the future when all we hope and plan for may become actualities of a model community.

This is, in a sense, marking a course we hope to follow. We realize that the hearty co-operation of the community with the pupils and the faculty will do much to bring about accomplishment, and in the same measure that united effort is made in one direction will the schools continue to show a marked degree of general improvement.

Our aim is to make the schools render the highest service possible to those seeking educational advancement. We do it as a duty. But we do it also as a pleasure— the fullest, sweetest, most enduring pleasure that can come within the reach of the present generation— to help start the rising generation on the road to ultimate success, the most prominent features of which shall be honorable achievement and happiness of the most permanent character.

NEWS AND COMMENT

Schools open Monday, Aug. 29.

The same supervising principal and corps of teacher are occupying the same positions they did last year.

There is no reason for regret on account of the progress made last year but it is the hope of every teacher that greater accomplishment may crown their efforts for the coming year.

The aim of the school administration is high. It is hoped that community unity will be welded with the school unity in such a manner as to promote educational advancement to a degree of perfection greater than ever in both schools.

With 90 per cent of the students of the schools of the entire country dropping out of school before they reach the high school period, what do you think the percentage of Boulder Creek Union School district ought to be?

DISTINGUISHED VISITOR HERE

Dr. Daniel S. Neuman, specialist of Juneau, Alaska, is spending some time in Boulder Creek with Mrs. Neuman and their daughter, Miss Neuman, who is a teacher in the English department of the Boulder Creek Union High School.

Dr. Neuman, who has been doing research work among the Alaska Indians and Esquimos, is vice-president of the Alaska Historical Society and has recently been honored by being made an honorary life member of the organization for his distinguished service and research in the history of the Territory.

At the same time that the honor was conferred upon Dr. Neuman, explorers Amundsen and Steffanson were also made life members of the Association.

WILL COME BACK

Mr. Steven Booth and grandson, Frank Minson, of San Jose, left Aug. 21st after a week's visit with his sister-in-law, Mrs. E. T. Booth and other relatives in Boulder Creek. Even in that short time Mr. Booth noted a great improvement in his health which speaks well for this climate. His parting remark was, "You'll see me back in a few weeks." We note that people once visit Boulder Creek always return again.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Stagg spent Sunday at Big Basin.

Dr. Lindsay spent several days in Oakland this week.

Mrs. O. Z. Shepard has returned after several weeks' visit at her daughter's, Mrs. E. A. Dulmage in Oakland.

Mrs. B. Z. Judie and daughter, Miss Helen of Oakland, is visiting Mrs. L. Mann.

Miss Anna Fritch leaves Friday for Santa Barbara, where she teaches.

Mrs. Joseph McFarland, nee Florence West, and family, are spending a week at Boulder Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Janette Ladd report a most enjoyable visit to the Yosemite Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Rose from Oakland, are at Boulder Creek for a visit.

Mr. J. Van Cleve from Venice is in Boulder Creek.

Miss Laetilia S. Meyer from U. C. and her aunt, Miss Sadie Summerville of Stockton, are visiting here.

Mrs. C. E. Schroeder of Mill Valley, is among the late arrivals.

J. E. Bean and son are here from San Jose.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Bowman are up from Santa Cruz.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Smith and daughter Ruth are visiting Mr and Mrs. Joe Glenn. Mr. Smith will soon leave for Tuolumne.

Miss Mildred Brown, of San Jose is visiting Barbara Hartman.

Mrs. Hesse, Mrs. I. Hartman, Mrs. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Porter and Mr. Clarence Porter all attended the Christian Science Association which met in the city the past week. It was under the direction of Dr. Frances J. Flund.

WELL TRAINED

"Now you'll have to back out from the presence of royalty." "I'm used to it. I always leave the kitchen that way."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

SOME IMPROVEMENTS

The improvements, (while somewhat limited when compared with the real needs of the schools) which have been completed at the high school will greatly facilitate the work of giving instruction during the coming year. Especially is this true of the manual training quarters which now gives nearly double the room for wood work that was available last year. Little by little development progresses in the right direction and everything better added to what we've got just makes the schools that much better.

EIGHT NEW MEMBERS ARE ADDED TO THE B. C. I. C.

One of the best meetings held since its organization was the meeting of the Boulder Creek Improvement Club in the Library last Monday evening. The meeting was a spirited one and showed marked progress in every direction.

Eight new members were added to the roll of membership and the plans for the big Community Night meeting to be held in Foresters Hall Monday evening, August 29th, are progressing in the most satisfactory manner. It is expected that members of the Ben Lomond and Brookdale Improvement Clubs will be present and there will be good speakers to discuss several subjects of vital importance to the entire San Lorenzo valley.

Several committees working on matters of interest to the town reported progress and were continued. The matter of removing the redwoods which stand at the entrance of town was brought up by Dr. Hoag and the sentiment of the meeting was unanimous that every possible effort should be made to save them from being removed as they are too much a part of the surrounding beauty of landscape to have them destroyed.

Good roads will be one of the items discussed at the Community Night meeting and a matter of especial local interest will be the lighting of the Main street. The matter is meeting with well merited approval and now only seems to need a decision in the method of placing the lights to best advantage.

All interested should attend next Monday night.

There will be good speaking and good eats.

Come if a member and if not a member, come and become one, and don't come alone—bring some one with you.

It is our town and your town—our club and your club.

What's the matter with making 'em both live ones?

FINE MUSICAL TREATS

The musical treats of Mr. Joseph Weiss of San Francisco, which all the Boulder people have been enjoying the last week at nightfall are much appreciated. It has given a touch of the mountain life of Switzerland, where flute and cornet solos echo and re-echo across the valleys. Mr. Weiss' musical treats from "Fairmount" have been much remarked upon by our residents and waited for with pleasure each night. Mr. Weiss was a regimental bugler in the U. S. army during the war and at present plays with Will King at the Casino in San Francisco.

Mr. F. G. Maynard, Supt. San Jose District, Pacific Gas & Electric Co., Mr. Campbell of San Francisco, official of the same company, and the latter's wife, arrived in time Sunday to partake of one of Mrs. Omnes' enchilada feeds.

Bear Creek News

Dr. Baumeister and family motored from San Francisco, and spent the week-end at their beautiful summer home, Eagle Crest, on Bear Creak.

Mr. Stanley Horstman and wife, spent Saturday and Sunday visiting at Apple Thorpe farm.

Mrs. Kennedy and Anna Pilger motored to San Francisco on Wednesday and returned the next day.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Devin of Isabella Ridge, spent Sunday visiting friends on Bear Creek. Mr. and Mrs. Devin contemplate a trip to Detroit, Mich., this fall, to take possession of an estate left them recently.

Joe De Voe, the auto salesman, and friends spent Saturday in visiting friends here.

Miss Morrow of Brookdale motored up Friday and spent the day visiting Mrs. Anna Pilger with a party of friends who were Prof. Heath and wife and daughters and little son, of Stanford university. This being their first visit here they were more than pleased with their trip.

Mr. Geo. Nord, the potato king, intends putting out a large acreage in potatoes this coming spring.

Georgia Pilger and Willis Horstman rode their Harleys to Santa Cruz last Sunday to witness the hill climbing contest which they said was great and witnessed by a great crowd.

Beethoven, no grander music rolls than thine
Nor sweeter, fresher winds from any clime.
The ocean's thunder sounds along thy line
Bright too as changeful rays of sunset shine
From out some darkening cloud, thy light has glowed
Thro' the sole rent of clouded time, and showed
Thy soul's creations human and divine.
No brain, great soul, e'er moulded measures more sublime
Than thy ninth symphony, thou prophet poet of mankind.

E. J. Berg has had plans and specifications made for the rebuilding of the house at Highlands, which when completed will be one of the finest residences in this locality. Architect E. L. Van Cleeck made the drawings and specifications.

Members of the Ben Lomond Improvement Club are urged to attend the Community Night meeting of the Boulder Creek Improvement club, to be held in Foresters Hall, Boulder Creek, next Monday evening, August 29. Good speakers and good things to eat are promised and the discussion of matters of timely interest to all the towns in the valley make the meeting especially interesting.

MISSIONARY WORK

C. W. Ramsey, representing the California State Auto Association from the Salinas office has been doing some missionary work in this neighborhood during the last week. It is real missionary work and it is gratifying to know that the congregation is growing. There is not a person who drives an auto along the highways of California who is not enjoying the results of work done by the State Auto Association and any one who enjoys benefits ought to be willing to help extend still greater benefits to himself and to others.

NEW HIGHWAY OPEN

Many of the local machine owners were among those who traversed the newly completed State highway from Santa Cruz to Los Gatos when the road was opened to public travel yesterday. The shortened distance from the Bay Cities makes it easier for the many patrons of the delightful moumtain resorts to get to the place of rest and back to the place of work when the resting time has passed.

TAUGHT LESSON BY HUNGER

Good Story of How Franklin Was Converted to the Idea of Fish as Human Food.

One day Benjamin Franklin—James Parten tells us in his "Life of Benjamin Franklin"—was on a sloop which was becalmed on a certain island. The sailors, as is still the custom when a ship is becalmed, amused themselves by fishing. Franklin witnessed the catching of the fish with regret. But soon there came to tantalize his nostrils a most alluring odor from the frying pan. So, as Franklin used to tell the story, he went over his reasoning again to see if there was not a flaw in it.

It occurred to him that when the fish were opened he had seen smaller fish in their stomachs.

"Ah!" said Franklin. "If you eat one another I don't see why we may not eat you!"

So Franklin dined upon the fish very heartily, and thereafter ate what others ate. When telling this story Franklin ended with an observation which is often attributed to Talleyrand, but which we are assured was a familiar joke with Franklin. This was:

"So convenient a thing it is to be a reasonable creature, since it enables one to find or make a reason for everything one has a mind to do!"

Persian Bread Has Many Uses.

At Kasvin, Persia, a British patrol base, we were lodged in empty wards of the military hospital, writes Mary E. Griscom in Asia Magazine. Our provisions had almost given out by this time, and we were reduced to Persian stone bread. So far as I know, only the coconut and the bamboo serve more purposes than the flaps of Persian bread, which are about two feet long, one foot wide and a quarter of an inch thick. If it is raining, the Persians use them on their heads as umbrellas; and if it is sunny, as parasols; in winter, they wrap the flaps around their shoulders. If they do not need them for protection they roll them up and carry them under their arms. In the hospitals they spread them out on empty beds to dry.

BE SQUARE WITH YOURSELF

The habit of making excuses to yourself and accepting them will soon undermine your intellectual stamina and begin to sap your moral fiber.

Be square with yourself at least. Tell yourself the truth, and take no excuses whatever.

List your faults and your failures, and blame yourself for them. List your bad habits, and try to get rid of them. Admit that it was indolence that made you let a job go over till it was too late to do it, and bad temper and not bad health that made you peevish with people who had a right to expect cheerfulness and courtesy from you.

Be your own severe but just judge. Make no excuses and take none. And you will soon find that you will need to make none, for you will have no derelictions to excuse.—John Blake in the Chicago Daily News.
